Pastor Dan,

I have to take a second and share my experience today at the Urban Ministry. Last week walking my dog I realized the size 11 waterproof walking shoes I had recently purchased were a bit too small. I had actually bought them a half size too long, but for some reason they didn't fit. I bought a new pair. I wondered what to do with these, since they were like new. I was going to volunteer at the Urban Ministry on Saturday, why not take them along and leave them for someone else.

I was speaking with a young client who told me his story, homeless, not a substance abuser, recently mugged, seeking help and counseling. I gave him some references for help, he ate, received food supplies and we discussed God's love and his goodness. The client told me his name was David, the same as my son. He told me how cold it was and how his shoes were inadequate. I didn't need to ask the next question, but did anyway. What size do you wear? David said size 11.

A perfect fit.

David said "You don't know how much this means to me" "God does truly provide"

I hope to see David next week.

Thank You Father,

Steve Randall
